RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE STUDENT

Each student has the responsibility to ensure that:

- They understand and follow these guidelines.
- All deadlines from the Graduate School are met.
- All forms are completed on time and that copies are on file.

The Graduate Coordinator and the major professor will provide advice to the student on these matters. Deadlines are subject to change, so check them often. Deadlines are posted at the Graduate School website <https://grad.uga.edu/index.php/current-students/important-dates-deadlines/>. Details of all degree requirements are more thoroughly described in the Graduate School Bulletin and students are strongly advised to read it.

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA'S ACADEMIC HONESTY POLICY

All students at UGA are expected to read the University's academic honesty policy and comply with it. A summary leaflet is attached for your reference. The full document, entitled, "A Culture of Honesty", can be located on the web page of the Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost (https://honesty.uga.edu/resources/documents/academic_honesty_policy_2017.pdf). As an instructor, it is important that you follow this policy if you discover academic dishonesty.

FERPA (Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act)

The University of Georgia is legally and ethically obligated to protect the confidentiality of students' records. The Office of the Registrar provides several resources to help faculty and staff learn about student privacy rights and responsibilities under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

Each new employee who will have access to any student information system is required to complete the FERPA quiz and certification. Current employees will be asked to complete a recertification on an annual basis. More information and the required training and quiz available at: <https://reg.uga.edu/general-information/ferpa/>

COMPUTER ETHICS

All students at UGA should take note of computer ethics, governing their use of computers. A summary of the policies is attached herein for your reference. You are strongly encouraged to read the full document on "University of Georgia Policies on the Use of Computers", which can be located on the web page of the University Enterprise Information Technology Services (EITS) http://eits.uga.edu/access_and_security/infosec/pols_regs/policies/aup. The penalties for breaking the rules can be severe.

The Department of Geography provides all graduate students with computer access into the Department's network server. We expect all students observe the UGA computer use policies. Students should respect each user's privacy and intellectual property right and should never attempt to snoop into and/or copy other users' files in their home directories. Students should never illegally install computer software into the departmental computers. Nor should they attempt to "crack" or infest a computer with viruses. Violations of these policies may lead to various disciplinary measures and consequences, including termination of employment or criminal prosecution.

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA – NON-DISCRIMINATION AND ANTI-HARASSMENT POLICY

The University of Georgia (“the University”) is committed to maintaining a fair and respectful environment for living, work and study. Please visit the following website and read it carefully:

OVERVIEW OF GEOGRAPHY DOCTORAL DISSERTATION PROGRAM

The doctoral program is intended to take four years. For the first two years, the doctoral student takes courses, filling out a program of study that is tailored to their own scholarly interests and research needs. The doctoral student is focused on learning, and developing knowledge and skills with which to execute the dissertation. For the second two years, the doctoral candidate focuses on executing and writing up the dissertation research. The transition from doctoral student to doctoral candidate is achieved by passing comprehensive/qualifying examinations and successfully defending a dissertation proposal, in the 4th or 5th semester of the program (at 2 – 2.5 years). Each of these events involves the student's entire doctoral committee.

Comprehensive / Qualifying Examinations

The form of these exams varies somewhat across the department, by research domain and by major professor. Common to all approaches is that the student reads deeply and carefully in three reading lists that inform their identity as an emerging scholar and often also inform their intended dissertation research, and then sits for written exams that have been arranged and agreed upon by their doctoral committee. The student submits their written responses (essays) to their major professor, who then shares them with the rest of the doctoral committee. The major professor schedules an oral examination with the entire committee at least two weeks after the written essays have been disseminated to the committee. The oral exam typically lasts 2 hours. The purpose is to test the student's knowledge of the subject matter in verbal format. The oral exam consists of the committee members asking the doctoral student to elaborate on elements of the essays.

Dissertation Proposal Defense

The doctoral student works with their major professor to develop their dissertation proposal. This will likely take several iterations back and forth, and the progress toward the final version will depend on how clearly the project is defined at the outset, how well prepared the student is to take on that particular project (in terms of grounding literature, conceptual framework, methods), and the feasibility of completion within the expected timeline for a dissertation. Once the student and major professor agree that the proposal is finished, the advisor (or sometimes the student themselves) will share the proposal with the rest of the doctoral committee for their review. The student should reach out to the graduate administrator to schedule a proposal defense, giving the committee members at least two weeks in which to review the proposal before the date of the defense.

For the proposal defense, the student will be asked by the major professor to give a short presentation about the proposed project. Then the committee members will discuss the project with the student, with the goal of ensuring that the project is logically coherent, methodologically sound, and feasible. The proposal defense typically lasts 2 hours.

Doctoral Candidacy

Once the doctoral student has passed the comprehensive/qualifying exams and successfully defended their dissertation proposal, they have reached doctoral candidacy. Whereas the doctoral student is focused on learning, developing knowledge and skills with which to execute the dissertation, the doctoral candidate is focused on researching and writing up the dissertation. A number of things change administratively for doctoral candidates: See requirements for admission to candidacy on p. 8.

Dissertation Approval and Defense policy

When the major professor is satisfied with the completed dissertation, he or she will certify that it has his or her approval and is ready to be read. The major professor will then distribute copies of the dissertation to the remaining members of the advisory committee and schedule a final oral defense. The graduate coordinator must notify the Graduate School at least two weeks prior to the defense. Subsequently, the Graduate School will announce the time and place of the defense of the dissertation to the University community. The committee members must have three weeks to read and evaluate the completed dissertation.

Written assent of the committee members (other than the major professor) will be required before a dissertation will be approved as ready for a final defense. No more than one dissenting vote may be allowed for the approval of the dissertation. If the advisory committee declines to approve the dissertation as ready for the final defense, the major professor will notify the student and the Graduate School.

The defense of the dissertation will be chaired by the student's major professor and attended by all members of the advisory committee simultaneously for the entire defense period. The defense will consist of a public presentation followed by a private defense during which only the student and advisory committee will be in attendance. The public presentation is open to anyone who wishes to attend. The student and committee chair must appear in person for both components of the defense, but other committee members can participate via teleconference or video conference, provided that the comments of all participants can clearly and consistently be heard. If the major professor is not able to attend the defense in person, they can designate a substitute chair who is a current member of the committee. The defense can be held completely remotely if approved by the graduate coordinator and the unit/department head. The advisory committee must approve the student's dissertation and defense with no more than one dissenting vote and must certify their approval in writing. An abstention is not allowable for the final defense. The results of the defense of the dissertation must be reported to the Graduate School at least two weeks prior to graduation for the current semester.

Once the dissertation has been approved by the advisory committee and the final oral examination has been passed, the dissertation must be submitted to the Graduate School for final approval no later than two weeks prior to graduation of the following semester. Dissertations which are not submitted by this deadline must be defended again and approved by the advisory committee before they will be considered by the Graduate School for final approval.

Final Dissertation Defense

Following the approval of the major professor, the student will send their dissertation to all members of their doctoral committee members. It is best to ask the faculty members about their preferred format (i.e., hardcopy or digital) in which to receive the thesis. They need to receive it at least 2 weeks before the final oral defense. In addition, the defense must be scheduled to allow at least 3 weeks between the thesis defense and the Graduate School's final deadline for submitting the final version of the thesis and all approval paperwork. This time may be needed to make final adjustments to thesis, responding to issues identified or questions raised in the thesis defense. Thus, you'll need to plan ahead carefully in order to fit the thesis defense into the semester you plan to graduate.

The dissertation defense will be chaired by the student's major professor and attended by all members of the advisory committee simultaneously for the entire defense period. At the defense, which typically lasts for 2 hours, the student gives an oral presentation about the dissertation for the committee members and others who may want to attend (e.g. geographers, members of the university community, friends and family). The format of the presentation may be similar to a conference presentation and is typically 15-20 minutes long. The presentation is followed by Q & A from the audience. After Q & A, all but the committee members are excused and the committee members engage in discussion with the student about the dissertation. They may ask for additional clarification of points in the dissertation, or they may argue with a premise or finding. Many faculty interpret this conversation as a means to find the limits of what the student knows about the subject matter. It is for these reasons that the meeting is called a defense. It is not a hostile encounter by any means, but you do need to be ready to defend, explain, and expound upon your work.

The advisory committee must approve the student's thesis and defense with no more than one dissenting vote (e.g., three of the four advisory committee members must approve, including the major professor) and must certify their approval on the Thesis Defense Form.

Enrollment at Time of Graduation

Students must be registered during the semester in which they intend to graduate. Each must strictly adhere to the deadline dates as posted on the Graduate School website here. However, if the student does not meet these deadlines, they will be removed from graduation for that term and will have to reapply to graduate through Athena in a future term. If you defend your thesis but do not graduate in the same term you will be required to graduate the following term or you will need to re-defend your thesis.

Using Human Subjects in Thesis Research

If you use human subjects you need to go to the Office of Research website. You must obtain approval from the Office of the Vice President for Research & Associate Provost. If you are not sure check out the website for detailed guidelines.

Final Submission of Dissertation to Graduate School

All dissertations have to be submitted in electronic form (pdf) to the Graduate School. For details, please check the Graduate School website on "Theses & Dissertations Guidelines": using this link. Please note: a format check must be approved by the Graduate School prior to ETD submission. See Graduate School format check deadline found above in "Additional Information" section.

TIME GUIDELINES FOR OBTAINING DEGREE OBJECTIVE:

These are general guidelines designed to help students progress toward their degree objective and to assist the faculty in assessing the student's accomplishments and satisfactory progress.

Requirements for the degree include coursework documented in a program of study, and a series of benchmarks involving official graduate school or departmental forms, meetings with your advisory committee, and written artifacts of thesis proposal and completed thesis. There is a lot of ground to cover in two years/four regular semesters.

 For students working with human subjects (research participants) in their research. Consult your major professor for guidance.

The oral doctoral comprehensive exam can proceed only after the Advisory Committee communicates to the major professor that the student has passed the written section of the examination. In order to verify that the student's file is complete and to provide time to process the required paperwork, the information needed of the oral comprehensive exam will be submitted to the Graduate Coordinator's office three weeks prior to the date of the oral exam.

The student must be registered for the appropriate number of hours prior to the exam. There must be an approved Advisory Committee form and an approved Final Program of Study form on file with the Graduate School prior to this notification. All members of the Advisory Committee must be present for the entire exam. The Graduate School must be notified if the exam is postponed or the student fails the exam.

*The Admission to Candidacy form can be submitted at the same time as the notification of the Oral Doctoral Comprehensive Exam if all requirements for candidacy have been met. If not, Admission to Candidacy form will be submitted only when requirements are met.

Admission to Candidacy Requirements:

1. An average of 3.0 (B) must be maintained on all graduate courses taken and on all completed graduate courses on the Program of Study. No course with a grade below C will be accepted as part of the Program of Study.
2. Written and oral comprehensive examinations must have been passes and reported to the Graduate School.
3. A dissertation prospectus must be presented and approved.
4. The residence requirement must be met.

This form is initiated by the student in GradStatus. It will automatically be routed to the major professor for approval.

PROGRAM OF STUDY

The Geography Department requires 32 hours of coursework on the PhD program of study (two more than minimum required by the Graduate School). The program of study is a formal graduate school document which lists your courses, and should constitute a logical whole. It should prepare you for, and support, the work you do for your dissertation. Additionally, for doctoral students, the department requires a preliminary program of study to be submitted at the end of the second semester. Work with your major professor and advisory committee to choose courses for your program of study. Consult the UGA Course Bulletin, plan ahead to the extent possible, and reach out to the faculty teaching courses you are considering. It is perfectly acceptable to ask if you can see a syllabus before taking the class. There won't always be one available, but if there is, it can help you make decisions about your program of study.

Credit hours in the program of study need to be spread out according to several requirements:

The Residency Requirement. This is fulfilled by taking courses at UGA in at least two out of three semesters each year; Fall, Spring, Summer terms each count as semesters). Any of the summer terms (Maymester, Summer I, Summer II, Through Session, Extended Session) count for summer in this policy.

Continuous Enrollment Requirement. Please see page 16 for detailed information on this requirement.

Graduate-Only Credit Requirement. At least 12 semester hours of course work must be open only to graduate students. This usually means an 8000 or 9000 level course. If you do include a 6000- and 7000-level course open only to graduate students on the program of study form, be sure to check the 'Grad Level Only?' box. Otherwise, this fact may get overlooked.

Limits to research credits. Research credits fall under the course numbers GEOG 9000 and GEOG 9300. For the PhD in Geography, a minimum of 3 hours of GEOG 9300 must be listed on the program of study, according to Graduate School policy. While you can take more than 3 hours of GEOG 9000 during your program, no more than 3 hours of GEOG 9000 may appear on the program of study.

Minimum grades. No grade below C will be accepted on the Program of Study. To be eligible for graduation, a student must maintain a 3.0 (B) average on the graduate transcript and a 3.0 (B) average on the Program of Study.

Directed problems credits. No more than 3 hours of directed problems credit hours from Geography or any other department may appear on the Program of Study (GEOG 8290, 8390, 8590, 8690)

What cannot be included in the Program of Study. Credit hours under course number GEOG 9005 Graduate Student Seminar cannot appear on the program of study. This is a variable credit, S/U course number used to denote effort toward degree and fill in credit hours where needed in a given semester. Credit hours under GEOG 6920 and GEOG 6921 cannot appear on the program of study.

Departmental Requirements:Core [5 core courses (8 hours) must appear on your Program of Study + GRSC 7001 (1 hr.):]

- GEOG 8900 (1 hr.) Proseminar I
- GEOG 8901 (1 hr.) Proseminar II
- GRSC 7001 (1 hr.) GradFIRST seminar
- GEOG 8910 (3 hrs.) (Unless taken at Master's level or waived by permission of instructor if student has completed a similar course in Master's program elsewhere. If waived, 1 additional 3-hour graduate-only credit course, not including GEOG 9000 or any Directed Problems course from any department, must be substituted.)
- GEOG 9300 (3 hrs.) (You are not permitted to enroll in this course more than once (3 hrs. only) prior to passing Written and Oral Comprehensive Exams.)

Electives (8 additional graduate-level courses (24 hours), or 9 additional grad-level courses (27 hours) if waived from GEOG 8910, according to the following conditions):

- Four courses (12 hrs.), or 5 courses (15 hrs.) if waived from GEOG 8910, must be available only to graduate students. These courses should be in addition to GEOG 8900, 8901, & 8910 and will surpass the Graduate School's 16 hr. requirement for 8000-level courses.
- GEOG 9000 cannot be counted among electives.
- No more than 3 hrs. of Directed Problems courses from Geography (e.g., GEOG 8290, 8390, 8590, 8690) or any other department can appear on the Program of Study.
- GEOG 6920 Special Problems in Area Analysis and GEOG 6921 Directed Topics in Independent Research- two versions of independent study- cannot appear on the program of study.

Department Research Skills Requirement:

- At least 6 hours of graduate-level "skills" classes approved by doctoral committee.

MANAGING YOUR PAPERWORK

Deadlines: All paperwork for your Doctoral program has deadlines. Please take these seriously as missing them may prevent you from progressing in your program. The Graduate School website lists deadlines that change each year, be sure to check them regularly.

Routing: All Departmental forms must be submitted to the Graduate Program Administrator. All Graduate School forms must be submitted by the student directly to the Graduate School via GradStatus. See below for list of which forms are submitted where. All forms must be submitted at least one week before any deadline and as noted below. The Graduate Coordinator will not sign any forms unless you submit them with sufficient time for review by the Graduate Program Administrator.

Responsibility: Students hold full responsibility for ensuring that the correct forms are completed in a timely fashion – do not rely on your Major Professor to make sure the forms get completed on time!

Sources: There are four sources for the forms you will need (details on p. 11).

- 1) Most forms are available online at the Graduate School website
Always check for the most recent version of forms.
- 2) Some forms are available online at the Departmental website
- 3) The Graduate Program Administrator prepares a few forms.
- 4) The Graduate School prepares a couple of forms after an on-line application/request has been completed. Some of these applications/requests can only be made by the Graduate Coordinator's office.

General Instructions: All forms must be completed in digital format. Once you have filled in your form, obtained all required signatures, with dates, from major professor and committee members (if required), then submit the form to the Graduate Program Administrator. The Graduate Program Administrator will obtain the Graduate Coordinator's signature and, when necessary, submit to the Graduate School. Please go online and obtain/complete the forms as needed to be sure you have the most current form. Always submit departmental forms directly to the Graduate Program Administrator.

You must email notification of all defenses to the Graduate Program Administrator. Provide all needed information such as: your name, title, date, time, location, and names of committee members.

When defending your Dissertation Proposal, you must notify the Graduate Program Administrator 1.5 weeks prior to the proposal defense by email (include the date, time, location(s), dissertation title, and names of all committee members). Students must have on file their Advisory Committee form before they are permitted to schedule their proposal defense.

When scheduling your final Dissertation defense, you must notify the Graduate Program Administrator 2 weeks prior to the final defense by email (include whether you used human subjects in your research, if yes, provide the project number and date approved by IRB, as well as the defense date, time, location(s), dissertation title, and names of all committee members). All forms need to be filed and approved before you can schedule your thesis defense.

To request a room reservation, please email the Graduate Administrator.

UGA Graduate School Continuous Enrollment Policy

All graduate students regardless of enrollment status or matriculation date are subject to the Continuous Enrollment Policy.

I. Minimum Enrollment

All enrolled students pursuing graduate degrees at the University of Georgia must maintain continuous enrollment from matriculation until completion of all degree requirements. Continuous enrollment is defined as registering for a minimum of three (3) graduate or professional course credits in at least two semesters per academic year (Fall, Spring, Summer), including the 3 hours of Graduate credit that is required for registration during the semester in which degree requirements are complete, until the degree is attained or status as a degree-seeking graduate student is terminated. Doctoral students who have advanced to candidacy and thesis-writing master's students who have satisfactorily completed all required courses (exclusive of 7000 and 7300) will be allowed to register at a rate equivalent to the prevailing in-state tuition rate. This policy specifies a minimum for maintaining status as a degree-seeking graduate student only. It does not supersede the minimum enrollment requirements of other programs, offices, or agencies. Doctoral students must maintain enrollment during fall and spring semesters (breaking only for summer semesters) until the residency requirement (30 hours for PHD, 20 hours for EDD or DMA) has been met. Refer to the instructions for Out-of-State Tuition Waivers if necessary. GA employees pursuing graduate degrees under the Tuition Assistance Program and students in non-degree status are exempt from this Continuous Enrollment Policy. However, these students remain under the pre-existing policy and will lose registration eligibility if non-enrolled for three consecutive terms. If registration eligibility is lost, these students must reapply to their programs and pay the applicable application fee to continue graduate study.

II. Leave of Absence

A leave of absence provides a mechanism for students experiencing unusual circumstance to be exempt temporarily from the continuous enrollment policy. A leave of absence requires approval of the Graduate program Coordinator and the Dean of Graduate School. A leave of absence will be granted only for good cause such as serious medical and health-related issues, major financial and employment issues; pregnancy, childbirth, child care, elder care, and other significant family issues; and other major personal circumstances that interfere with the ability to undertake graduate study. An approved leave of absence stands in lieu of registering for the minimum of 3 credits for each semester for which the leave of absence is granted. During a leave of absence, students may not use UGA facilities, resources, or services designed or intended only for enrolled students; receive a graduate assistantship, fellowship, or financial aid from the University; or take any UGA courses related to their program of study. An approved leave of absence does not stop the clock unless the leave is granted for pregnancy, childbirth or adoption (see below): time on leave counts toward any University, Graduate School, or program time limits pertaining to the degree being sought.

Pregnancy, Childbirth, and Adoption: Time spent on an approved leave of absence due to pregnancy, childbirth, and/or adoption of a child under six years of age will not count toward time limits governing their graduate degree.

- A. Application. Students may apply for a leave of absence for good cause such as serious medical and health-related issues, major financial and employment issues; pregnancy, childbirth, child care, elder care, and other significant family issues; and other major personal circumstances that interfere with the ability to undertake graduate study. An approved leave of absence stands in lieu of registering for the minimum of 3 credits for each semester for which the leave of absence is granted.
- B. Student Responsibility. It is the student's responsibility to apply for a leave of absence in timely fashion. An approved leave of absence does not exempt students from the enrollment requirements of other programs, offices, and agencies such as the Veterans Administration, Immigration and Naturalization Service, and federal financial aid programs. Eligibility for certain types of financial aid, including graduate assistantships, requires enrollment for more credits than the Continuous Enrollment Policy.
- C. Deadlines. A student may apply for a leave of absence before or during any semester in which they are not registered for courses. Application for a leave of absence must be received by the Graduate School Office of Enrollment Services on or before the last day of classes for the semester for which it is requested. A leave of absence will not be granted retroactively after the end of a semester.
- D. Limits. A student may request a leave of absence for one semester, two consecutive semesters, or three consecutive semesters (Summer semester included). There is a 12-month limit for any one request of leave of absence. A student may submit multiple requests for a leave of absence subject to a 3-semester limit. [\[Complete the Form\]](#)

III. Monitoring and Compliance

After the last day of each semester, any degree-seeking graduate student who has not maintained continuous enrollment by registering for the required credits or obtaining an approved leave of absence will lose their status as an enrolled graduate student. Students who wish to resume graduate study must: (a) re-apply to the Graduate School for admission and pay required application fees. Re-admission is not guaranteed and requires approval of the student's former program, (b) pay a re-enrollment fee equivalent to registering for 3 graduate or professional course credits at the current in-state tuition rate for each non-enrolled semester, including summer, up to a maximum of 9 hours.

Students may appeal actions resulting from violation of the Continuous Graduate Enrollment Policy or denial of a requested leave of absence by submitting a request in writing to the Dean of the Graduate School. The appeal should include documentation of unusual and extenuating circumstances that could justify an individual exception to the policy. A negative decision by the Dean of the Graduate School may be appealed to the Administrative Committee of the Graduate Council.

V. Program Exemption

A graduate program may apply for an exemption from the Continuous Graduate Enrollment Policy if the program operates on an intermittent basis and does not provide graduate courses or opportunities for research and scholarship on a term-by-term basis. For example, a program that offers graduate courses and other educational opportunities only one semester a year may apply for an exemption. Cooperative programs between the University and partners such as federal and state agencies, corporations, nonprofit organizations, and international exchange programs, may qualify for exemption if the program requires extended work or service off campus by the graduate student for multiple semesters. If granted, the exemption will apply automatically to all students enrolled in the program (i.e., students need not apply individually for an exemption). Program exemptions will be reviewed periodically and may be rescinded if the program begins to offer graduate education opportunities on a more continuous basis.

DEPARTMENTAL GUIDANCE FOR GRADUATE STUDENTS

DUPLICATING SERVICES

Graduate teaching assistants are expected to produce their own class-related work. Graduate teaching assistants are allowed to make all class related copies on the main office copy machine. Central Duplicating can be used for tests and hand-outs for large classes if you are unable to make copies yourself. This work should be submitted to the office manager along with all information (name, number of copies needed, due date). Your name should appear on all tests. All copies will be printed on the front and back on white paper unless otherwise noted. Please allow adequate time (up to one week during mid-term and finals week) for work to be printed and returned.

COPYING

If you are not familiar with operating the copy machine, please ask one of the staff for assistance. DO NOT leave the copier jammed! Let one of us know if help is needed. Due to the heavy usage of our copy machine, it is not feasible to make personal thesis or dissertation copies, and it is less expensive to go elsewhere. PLAN AHEAD. DO NOT come to the main office to copy after 4:45 PM. The main office hours are 9:00 AM - 5:00 PM. The office staff will not stay beyond 5:00 so you can finish copying. If you come after 4:45 you will be asked to leave and come back the next day. For large jobs please come by 4:00 PM.

LAB PRINTERS

Lab printers are to be used for Geography related course work. They are not to be used for personal printing. For example, no printing of fliers for personal organizations, websites containing personal interest information, PowerPoint presentations for a non-Geography related course, or printing by family members.

SUPPLIES

Office supplies such as note pads, pens, etc. are for departmental related activities only. Letterhead stationery will be provided for job applications, correspondence involving thesis or dissertation research, and other UGA-related professional needs.

CARRELS

If you are the last person to leave a carrel room or computer lab, please be certain the door is securely locked. The carrels are study areas and must be kept quiet, neat and clean. All the carrels have combination locks. Do not give out combinations to anyone. Valuables should not be left unattended in the carrels. Please see Sarah Baker if you have a problem with your carrel or would like to request a transfer to a different carrel. Do not move furniture from one carrel to another.

KEYS TO BUILDING

You may obtain a key to the building for entrance at night and on weekends. You may obtain a key from the Graduate Program Administrator.

UGA IS A NON-SMOKING CAMPUS

The University of Georgia has been designated a non-smoking campus. Smoking of any kind is NOT allowed.

POSTING GRADES AND STUDENT PRIVACY RIGHTS

Individual grades are part of a student's confidential record and are subject to the provisions set forth in the federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). University FERPA policies regarding student privacy indicate that you cannot release student grades to anyone except the Registrar and the student without that student's written consent, except in the case of a UGA official with a legitimate educational interest. For more specific information, visit this UGA FERPA site.

Do not post grades publicly, even by a numerical identification system. Test results and homework scores can be uploaded to eLearning Commons (elc: elc.uga.edu) where students can privately and securely review their grades.

MAILBOXES

Please check your email and mailboxes (Room 119) regularly. This is the main source of information within the department. Failure to check email might result in loss of assistantship, problems with TA assignments, or missing a Graduate School deadline. Also, there is a bulletin board in Room 119 and at the end of the hallway on the first floor past Room 149. Please check all these sites for important information. Check the Graduate School website here often for deadlines that may apply to you.

DRESS CODE

Students are expected to dress and behave in a professional manner when teaching in a classroom setting.

REGISTRATION

You must present an advisement form to the Graduate Program Administrator signed by your major professor to be cleared before you can register. The advisement form is required every semester (including Summer). If your major professor is out of town, please see the Graduate Coordinator for advising. The Graduate School requires, and the Department enforces, the regulation that a student must be enrolled each semester that University facilities (e.g., library, computer, carrels) or faculty advise thesis or dissertation research (that includes when you defend and when you graduate). Please fill out all requested information on these forms. All research or special problems classes must have an instructor listed on your registration forms.

PAYROLL CHECKS

After MyID creation and Archpass Duo has been completed, the new hire will have access to OneUSG Connect. OneUSG Connect is a system of record with UGA. The new hire is asked to complete these important steps to ensure that they are paid correctly. Please complete the following payroll functions through Employee Self Service (ESS): W4, G4, and Direct Deposit information. Please access OneUSG Connect via OneUSG Connect. For those employees who are not US citizens or US Permanent Residents (including F1, J1, H1 and other visa types), you will complete these forms via GLACIER.

CARREL ROOM SAFETY TIPS

These rules are for your protection and the protection of your belongings.

- Do not give out combinations to anyone who is not a Graduate Student in the Department.
- Do not let anyone into the carrel who is not a current graduate student, faculty or staff member unless they have an appointment with an occupant of the carrel.
- Do not leave doors propped open.
- Do not carrel hop. In other words, if you wish to change carrels, see the Graduate Program Administrator and make a request, don't assume a carrel is unoccupied and move in (you will be moved back out). There may be students on a waiting list for a vacant space.
- Do not remove items (file cabinets, etc) from another carrel to yours (you will be asked to put it back). Carrel rooms have been equipped with two drawer file cabinets, and a lamp. If your carrel room is missing any of these items, please let the Graduate Program Administrator know.
- Be courteous of others. Keep noise to a minimum. These are study and work areas. If you are sharing space with someone, please keep your belongings neatly to one side and leave room for the other person to work.
- If a student knocks on the carrel door and is looking for their TA, please see if the TA is in, if the TA is not there, tell the student to return later or wait out in the hall. Do not allow them to come in and wait in the TA's carrel.
- Respect others; do not go into anyone's space without their permission.
- Mailboxes for all students are in the Grad Lounge in Room 119 (Word Processing Room). Room 119 is a work area; please keep noise to a minimum. Do not give out combination to this room.
- If you are assigned a space and do not use it, please let the Graduate Program Administrator know so she can reassign it to someone who is on a waiting list for space.

Please be careful with drinks and food in those carrels. If you do accidentally spill something, clean it up immediately before it sets in.

Do not write on the surfaces or deliberately mar them in any way. Bulletin boards have been provided inside and outside each carrel for your use.

Please empty your trash cans into a larger can out in the hall on a regular basis.

Try to leave the carrel in the same shape you received it when you move out.

Grievance Process for Academic Matters

The UGA Geography department is a diverse learning community with high standards for both academic achievement and professional conduct. When a grievance or formal complaint is raised by a graduate student, the venue for the grievance depends on the nature of the complaint. As indicated in Table 1, grievances related to:

- sexual misconduct or discrimination based on a protected characteristic are reviewed by the UGA Equal Opportunity Office (EOO).
- workplace violence is reviewed by the Associate Vice President for Human Resources.
- academic dishonesty (e.g. plagiarism, unauthorized assistance, theft) are addressed by the Office of the Vice President for Instruction.
- academic appeals follow a process established by the University which begins at the department level and moves to the graduate school if not resolved within the department.

Graduate students who have a concern may consult with the Student Ombudsperson (706-542-8544) to determine the nature of the grievance and the most appropriate process to follow.

The purpose of grievance program as outlined below is to provide a prompt and fair resolution of a complaint related to professional or academic matters. The expectation is that before invoking this policy, both parties will have made a good faith attempt to resolve the issue in question. It should be noted that as faculty members, the Department Head, Associate Head and Graduate Coordinator are mandatory reporters under UGA's Non-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy (see pp. 4-5 of the NDAH Policy for more information on mandatory reporters). This means that should they learn of an action or event that they believe falls under the purview of the Equal Opportunity Office (EOO), at any step of the process described below, they will report it to the EOO immediately.

Step 1: Reporting. The graduate student reports a grievance to the Graduate Coordinator in writing. The Graduate Coordinator will meet in person with the graduate student in order to better understand the nature of the concerns. Following the meeting, the grievance will be shared with the complaine(s) unless an outside policy applies.

Step 2: Mediation. The purpose of mediation is for the Graduate Coordinator to guide both parties toward their own resolution of the grievance. The process will be guided by relevant documents and policies such as a mentoring compact, academic honesty policy, etc. Successful mediation will result in a mutually agreed upon resolution to the grievance. Unsuccessful mediation will lead to Step 3.

Step 3: Arbitration. The departmental leadership team (Head and Graduate Coordinator) will collect further documentation related to the grievance from all relevant parties, interview each party separately, and will subsequently develop written recommendation(s) for resolution of the grievance. Recommendations may include behavioral changes, organizational changes and/or institutional responses.

Step 4: Graduate School Involvement. If the student is not satisfied with the recommendations resulting from Step 3, he/she may contact the Dean of the Graduate School for further review (graddean@uga.edu; 706-542-1739).

Caveats: If the Graduate Coordinator is a party to the grievance, then the graduate student should report their concern directly to the Head, who will then serve as the mediator in Step 2. If the Head is a party to the grievance, the process moves directly to step 3. The Associate Head will replace any member of the leadership team who may be a party to the grievance.

Table 1: Avenues for grievances related to discrimination or harassment, workplace violence, or academic matters related to grade appeals or misconduct.

All graduate programs require a minimum of 30 graduate credit hours. Under "Course Information" on this form, list all graduate level courses that have been taken or will be taken to complete degree requirements for the degree. Students should work with the department to complete this form to make sure the student has listed all degree requirements. Doctoral students typically do not submit this form until the student is preparing to take written and oral comps. All other students are not required to submit the form until the deadlines posted on the Graduate School website for the semester in which the student plans to graduate: <http://grad.uga.edu/index.php/current-students/important-dates-deadlines/>.

The following courses cannot be listed under course information: GRSC 7770, GRSC 9270, LLED 7768/7769, or 7005/9005. You can list these courses under Departmental Requirements or Research Skills Requirement.

Copyright

Every thesis and dissertation is required to have a copyright page and an abstract that includes key words. These key words will be used in the cataloguing and Web search operations.

Students who utilize the manuscript style of a thesis or dissertation must procure copyright release from the publisher of the book or journal for it to be included within their document. The Graduate School cannot put the document on the Web without prior copyright release of these or other copyrighted materials contained within the document.

The Office of Vice President of Research provides information concerning the copyright issue. To view this information, students should refer to the Graduate School Website.

Release Options

The University of Georgia's land-grant mission includes sharing scholarly work with other scholars, students, and the public. Pursuant to this, theses and dissertations are made available publicly upon degree conferral. It is anticipated that the majority of graduate students will recognize the value of open access to scholarly work and will elect immediate release of their thesis or dissertation (option 1 on ETD submission form). Under unusual circumstances, students may request restricted or delayed public access to theses or dissertations for a limited period of time. Two options for restricted or delayed release are available:

- Limited access to authorized users of the UGA Library only, for a period of two years from the date of degree conferral. This option does not require written justification and is non-renewable. Select option 2 on ETD submission form.
- Embargo (withhold) from UGA Library, for a period of two years from the date of degree conferral. This option requires written justification and prior approval by the Dean of the Graduate School. Approval of the Graduate Dean must be obtained well in advance of the submission deadline. Select option 3 on ETD submission form and submit with documented approval at least four weeks before the deadline for final submission.

The embargo option will be approved when there is a documented need to withhold distribution of the thesis or dissertation because:

- The thesis/dissertation contains patentable materials currently protected by patent application, or being considered for patent application;
- The thesis/dissertation contains sensitive information that is protected by a confidentiality agreement with a research sponsor or funding agency.
- The thesis/dissertation contains materials anticipated for timely publication with a publisher who has restrictive pre-publication or post-publication policies.

To request an embargo, a letter from the major professor must be submitted to the Dean of the Graduate School well in advance of the ETD submission date. The letter should include detailed documentation of the need for embargo.

On rare occasions, an extension of an embargo may be considered. A petition for an extension will require an additional letter of justification from the major professor (or Department Head in the absence of the major professor), and must be submitted along with documentation prior to expiration of the embargo. Such a petition will be reviewed by the Administrative Committee of the Graduate School.

Dissertation Abstracts (Doctoral Students Only)

The traditional dissemination of doctoral dissertation research has been through the publication of the abstract in Bell and Howell's (JMI) Dissertation Abstracts and the submission of the entire dissertation to University Microfilms for microfilming and distribution. The electronic submission and availability of the dissertation via the Web now makes the dissertation easier to access. The student should discuss the option of submitting the dissertation or the abstract to Dissertation Abstracts with their major professor. Please refer to the Bell and Howell website: <http://www.proquest.com/hp/Support/DServices/prepare/packets.htm> for additional information, agreement forms and fee requirements.
